NSEAD works hard to advocate for our members, our subject and our learners. We are the only professional association, learned society and trade union working for art, craft and design education in the UK. We work for you, not for profit. It is only through your subscription that we are able to do this essential work and bring your collective voice to government and education leaders. Thank you for your continued support – it means everything.

As a member of NSEAD, you have access to a toolkit of resources, knowledge and professional development including CPD, events, publications and community support.
